

Did you know chicken farms were once a popular business in Redmond? In fact, railroad companies once advertised the Pacific Northwest as “Poultryland”—the “most ideal place” to raise chickens and make a little money!

Every town has a history. Discover ours.
RedmondHistoricalSociety.org
(425) 885-2919